

MORROW SWEEPS STATE

Governor-Elect Polls Tremendous Majority Over Governor Black

DEMOCRATS MUCH SURPRISED

Had Been Over-Confident of Electing Their Entire Ticket--Republicans Gain Control of House

WILBORN DEFEATS KOON BY A MAJORITY OF 392

Edwin P. Morrow is to be the next Governor of Kentucky.

That he made a campaign that appealed to the masses of voters is shown by the surprising vote.

The Republican candidate invaded Democratic strongholds and literally swept his opponent off his field, carrying districts that even rock-ribbed Republicans had hardly expected him to hold his own.

While complete figures are not available at the time this is written, Morrow has carried the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Tenth and Eleventh Congressional Districts, with the Ninth in doubt. It is known that he carried 56 counties with ten more to be heard from, five of these in the Eleventh District where it is hardly to be expected that the Democratic candidate will do well. He carried only two counties in the First District, Crittenden being one of them.

Frank N. Burns of Paducah, Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner is probably elected.

Locally our own Bob Wilborn almost ran by himself. The table appended will give you the exact figures.

The day was a perfect one, although country roads in these parts were in their usual bad condition following a rainy week and the vote over the state was heavy, both parties made herculean efforts to get out the vote, and party workers were all busy.

Here in Marion one occasionally caught a glimpse of Gene Guess, W. E. Belt, W. B. Yandell, Bob Wilborn, L. E. Guess and others coralling their voters and J. L. Clements, Jesse Olive, W. U. Howerton, et al., were just as busy on their side of the fence.

There was no violence or misbehavior of any kind reported anywhere in the county, everything going along quietly and efficiently.

As to the two amendments early returns indicate that the "dry" amendment lost, the wet vote in the cities wiping out the dry vote in the rural districts. The other amendment probably carried.

The Crittenden Vote:

PRECINCT	Black	Morrow	Koon	Wilborn
Marion, 1	99	137	87	134

Shady Grove	106	73	102	72
Totals	1142	1702	1122	1583
Morrow's majority		560
Wilborn's			461

The prohibition amendment provision carried in this county by majority of 408, there being 1501 votes "yes;" 1093 "no."

Four years ago Mr. Morrow carried Crittenden county by a majority of 578, and E. D. Stone defeated McGrew, for Representative, Crittenden-Livingston district, by 190 votes.

Two years ago, in the Representative's race, Paris won over Koon by 61 votes.

Unofficial returns from Livingston county in Tuesday's election show that Wilborn has carried the two counties over Koon by a majority of 392.

As It Should Be

A reliable citizen said in the presence of this reporter recently, "That there never had been any effort in Crittenden between the two political parties to practice fraud in election."

Little Kindnesses

One evening soon after we had located in our temporary quarters out in the Rochester addition, a slender gentlemanly looking man appeared at the front door and handed a little box of lovely flowers for the mistress of the house.

It was a little thing, but put smiles and good cheer all about. I do hope the thoughtful giver was blessed in the deed commensurate with the thankful receiver. From the description of the giver I took it to be Hollis Franklin, who a few years ago was a barefoot country boy, but since, Principal of the High School, now cashier of one of our prosperous banks.

Rev. L. J. Millikan Stays at St. Pauls.

With the reading of appointments the Los Angeles-Arizona districts, the conference of the Methodist church, South, last night closed a very successful meeting in this city. The feature of the announced appointments locally is the fact that Rev. L. J. Milliken, pastor of St. Paul's church, is to remain in San Bernardino. People generally in this city will be doubly pleased at this news as Rev. Milliken and family have endeared themselves to the people here, and particularly to the church which he has so faithfully served, and whose guidance has made wonderful growth spiritually and otherwise.

The people of St. Paul's Methodist Church, South, never appreciated the splendid judgment of the bishop more than they did last evening when he read the appointments, and they heard that they were to have their beloved pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Millikan for still another year. They have enjoyed every session of the conference, but always that anxiety has been uppermost, so that last night their joy knew no bounds, and the last half hour was somewhat in the nature of an informal reception. Condition of the church, spiritually, socially, and financially, has never been better, and both pastor and people feel that there are great things in store for them.

The Colored Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Editor: Please allow me a word in your excellent paper concerning our work in Marion.

I must give God praise for giving us all health to accomplish the great work done this year. We have raised in all for this year $2,074.81. I must say I have some of the most loyal people to be found in our connection here in Marion.

All claims were settled in full and I am attending Conference at Madisonville this week.

F. R. ROBINSON, Pastor.

C. A. Adams a good citizen of Chapel Hill paid us a business call last week.

Quietly Married.

George Anna, daughter of Mrs. Lucy James, and Mr. A. L. Traylor, of Caldwell county, were married last Sunday at five o'clock at the residence of H. L. Paris, Bro. Paris officiating, in his impressive manner. The Press joins their many friends of this popular couple in all good wishes.

Deapwood

(Too Late for Last Week.)

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Horning and children visited relatives and friends last week and attended the revival at Sugar Grove.

Miss Reba McConnell visited her sister, Mrs. Lerah Drennan, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Birchfield and daughters, Misses Ruby and Ola; Joe Hunter, wife and baby; Misses Myrtle Walker, Bertie Travis and Ruby Chandler, of Marion, attended the revival at Sugar Grove Saturday night and Sunday.

Miss Carrie Morse visited her mother Saturday night.

Miss Alene Hill and Mr. Clifford Overby visited Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Drennan Saturday night.

Mrs. Iona Sutton has been at the bedside of her father, Jasper McDowell, who died Sunday morning.

Several from around here have been attending the revival at Cave Spring.

The revival meeting closed at Sugar Grove Tuesday night, Oct. 28th, with 23 professions and sixteen additions to the church. Rev. F. A. Grundy was given $100.00 for his services.

J. R. Travis has been the guest of his brother, H. B. Travis.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 1, 1919.

Editor Crittenden Press,

Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I wish to announce the marriage of Samuel L. Woodson to Miss Elizabeth Kimbell, of Paducah, Ky. The ceremony being performed in Paris, Tenn., Oct. 28, 1919.

Mr. Woodson is a former Crittenden county boy, and is now in the employ of the Remington Typewriter company in Paducah, at which place they will reside in the future.

Some Potatoes.

Mr. Howard Phillips, an industrious farmer of the Tribune section, brought to the Press office Monday two fine large sweet potatoes, Yam variety, weighing six pounds. The vine on which they grew was about three feet long and over an inch wide.

Wonder who can beat Howard as a potato grower.

FORD'S FERRY

Mrs. Bush Rankin was in our little town shopping Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Bell Hughes of O'possum Ridge was the guest of Mrs. Carrie Wofford Saturday.

Our school is progressing nicely with George Wofford as teacher.

H. J. Clift was in Marion Saturday on business.

Mrs. Jim Claghorn and children of Dean section, was in our neighborhood recently on a big hickory nut hunt.

The coming election is the general topic of discourse at this place, and I wonder if the people have meditated upon this as they should, of the great need of honest men in our offices today, if such can be obtained, men that money cannot buy. There is quite a number of people who just for the sake of voting the ticket that their forefathers did, will vote for a man whose past life is as black as the devil can make it.

Died.

Miss Isabelle James, daughter of Smith James, died in Akron, Ohio, last Saturday night and her remains were brought home Wednesday and interred in the Pleasant Hill cemetery same day. Rev. W. T. Oakley conducted the funeral.

LOST.

Some where on Ford's Ferry road between Marion and Ed Cook's, one black kid glove, with white stitching, and a green crepe de seine handkerchief. Finder please return to Press office and receive reward.

MRS. T. H. CARTER.

B. E. Clement of Holly Ore and Mining Co. was in to see us and subscribe for the Press last week.

Goes to His Reward.

Jasper N. McDowell, an aged and highly respected citizen of Marion, passed to his reward November 1st, 1919.

Death caused by the infirmities of old age.

Mr. McDowell was 79 years, eight months and 28 days old.

Born in the Piney section and lived in the county all of his life. He was married three times. His first marriage to Meleina C. James, his second wife Margaret Porter, daughter of the late Harvey Porter. His third marriage was to Mrs. Mary Jane Sullivan.

He leaves a wife and six children to mourn their loss.

His remains were interred in the Pleasant Hill cemetery, the funeral being conducted by Rev. J. B. Paris. For a number of years he was a member of Pleasant Hill church. He often expressed himself as being ready for the better world and rejoiced in hope of it.

The American Legion

It is well known by our readers that early this year a movement was set on foot by some of our soldiers returned from overseas service to organize into some kind of an association, to preserve the military traditions, and lessons learned from the great war.

This movement has met with approval of the majority of our soldiers, sailors and marines, and in many states chapters have already been formed, with local county organizations.

From the daily news we learn that the Governor of Missouri has issued a proclamation, designating November, 11th., (the anniversary of the signing of the armistice) as "American Legion Day."

Headquarters of the American Legion in New York has announced that approximately 1,000,000 veterans of the world war will be represented at the first national convention of the Legion which will be held in Minneapolis, Minn., on November 10, 11 and 12, the constitution provided for representation by four delegates and four alternates from each state, with one alternate for each 1000 members.

Here in Crittenden county this movement was started at the dinner given our boys by the Good Road Association early in June, and it is a matter of much regret that no further action was taken by the officers elected at that dinner, which would have resulted in a permanent organization.

The Press believes in Crittenden County, and stands ready to aid, in every way, to the limit of its power, in the upbuilding of this county. We believe that a county organization of our boys would be a mighty good thing--good for the boys and good for the county.

Get together boys--and if we can help call on us.

Hon. E. T. Franks

Spoke in Marion last Saturday. Notwithstanding the down pour of rain he spoke to a large crowd in the opera house in the interest of the Republican party. Ed is a Crittenden boy and is quite popular as a man and as a speaker.

Charles A. Moore.

Who has been in the revenue service for 14 years, left for Louisville Wednesday after visiting his father, Hon. J. A. Moore, Allie and John A. Moore, brothers, for some days.

He is an expert in the revenue business and has been engaged for some months in the west but for the present is stationed in Louisville. He is one of the few Republicans holding office to day.

I SEE

Walter McConnell was in the Press office socially last Friday during the down pour of rain.

Mr. Walter is a deserving young man and is making good. He and his partner, Blanton Wiggins, are to have a up-to-now Barber Shop, when complete.

Judge Clem Nunn was in our office on business last Friday. Clem would make a good Governor for any state. He is another lawyer who attends prayer meeting.

Mr. Hugh McConnell, capitalist and up-to-now farmer of the fair city of Fords Ferry has retired from active life and is now on easy street. However he recently pulled off some stunt, taking a full day off.

For further particulars see his two old pals, C. M. Clift and J. L. Rankin.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins was kind and thoughtful enough to give us the benefit of light last Friday afternoon. Thank you Marshall, the Press force had to wander around in darkness until the lights came on.

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, a gifted author and poetess died last week.

Rev. F. R. Robinson, pastor of Colored Methodist Church is in Madisonville this week attending his annual conference.

The floods in many sections in Kentucky have damaged corn crops greatly and retarded the wheat sowing.

Miss Virginia Hill and father, J. M. Hill, were in Marion Tuesday and paid the Press a pleasant visit.

Mr. J. D. Summers, of the Lucile Mining Company, was in Tuesday and renewed for the Press.

Mr. J. D. Sigler was in the Press office Tuesday. He spent the week-end in the Shady Grove section.

Indiana is to have lightless nights to conserve coal.

The Western Kentucky mines are all operating this week except two, mine No. 7, at Clay and a small one near there are not working.

Union county is to build five new steel bridges.

The third drive for the Red Cross is in full swing this week.

The election passed off quietly in Crittenden.

The new hospital the L. C. is building in Paducah to cost two hundred fifty thousand dollars is about complete.

Mrs. Joe Bourland comes into the office occasionally to keep acquainted with Joe.

Popular Couple Wed.

Mr. J. B. Hewlett Jr. of Crider and Miss Mary Ray of Fredonia were married at the home of the bride last Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, many relatives and friends witnessing the ceremony which was performed by Rev. B. B. Loyd.

The bride is the accomplished and attractive daughter of Mr. J. B. Ray of Fredonia, and is greatly admired by her many friends.

The groom is the son of J. B. Hewlett Sr., and Mrs. Nellie Glenn Hamlett of Crider, and is a well known and hustling young farmer of that section.

After the ceremony the happy young couple, accompanied by the brides brother, Mr. Reuben Ray and Miss Thelma Butler, both of Fredonia, drove to the home of the brides parents where a grand feast awaited them.

Their many friends wish them a long, happy and prosperous life.
